Following a report from the driver of Car 39, Andrea Dell'Ovo, I request to investigate the ATOM F1 8th Bahrain Grand Prix race final classification under Article 28.4, as the results may have been altered due to a server-side bug in the standings. The driver is claiming his final position was 6th, while the system recorded he crossed the finish line 12th.

According to Article 28.2, if Car 39 was on the same lap of the others' race, has the right to be classified in the order in which all of the same-lap runners have crossed the finish line.

I am submitting further evidences in order to evaluate the matter in the most appropriate way.
